ANNEXURE – 'A'MANAGEMENT DISCUSSIONS AND ANALYSIS

The Management of the Company is pleased to present its Report on Industry scenario including Company's performance during the financial year 2015-16.

Industry Structure and Developments

The textile industry is presently largest industry of modern India and it is one of the oldest industries in Indian economy dating back since many centuries. As of now the textile sector is one of the largest contributors to India's exports with approximately eleven percent (11%) of total exports. It accounts for over 20 percent of industrial production and is closely linked with the agricultural and rural economy. The textiles industry is labour intensive and is one of the largest employers and employing about 45 million people. The textile industry has made a major contribution to the national economy in terms of direct and indirect employment generation and net foreign exchange earnings. The sector contributes about 14 percent to industrial production, 4 percent to the gross domestic product (GDP), and a major contributor to the country's foreign exchange inflows.

The textile industry has two broad segments, one is unorganised sector consists of handloom, handicrafts and sericulture, which are mostly concentrated in the small scale sector and second is the organised sector consisting of spinning, apparel and garments segment which employ mechanization and modern technologies for production. Now the textile sector is expanding and technical textiles are being included in the industry. Technical textiles are accounted to be the fastest growing sector of the textile industry and it is manufacturing towards non-clothing applications. In India the consumption of technical textile is increasing day by day and it's growing at twice rate of textiles for clothing applications. India is the second largest producer of textiles and garments in the world. The Indian textiles and apparel industry is expected to grow to a size of US$ 223 billion by 2021, according to a report by Technopak Advisors.

Opportunities and Threats

The textile industry records an annual growth of around 6 - 8% and the retail businesses including e-commerce business are providing opportunities to industry's segments like handicrafts, handlooms and apparels. An upsurge in the purchasing power and disposable income of Indian customers has opened room for new market development. The export from China is lowering which will provide to enhance the market share to other low cost countries including India. The labour cost in China is expected to increase as per the market research which will be another major factor for India to grab the market share of China.

Competing with other progressing countries will always be a threat for Indian Textile Industry and striking a balance between the quality and price of products will also play a major role. Environmental and international labor laws and its compliances will increase the cost of production which may adversely affect the Industry.

Segment-wise or product-wise performance

The activity of the Company can be broadly divided into two categories; one is traditional textile business which includes yarn, knitted fabric and knitted garment business and second is technical textile business which includes nonwoven fabric and its converted products like wet and dry wipes. The performance of technical textiles business has done better than traditional textiles.

Outlook

A "Make in India" campaign covering 25 sectors which also includes the textile and garment industry and Company sees good prospects in time to come. 100% foreign direct investment (FDI) under the automatic route in the textile sector subject to all applicable regulations and laws can create a favorable environment for textile industry. Company sees good prospect in the business of technical textile and expect that margins in traditional textile business will improve in future.

Risk and Concerns

The textiles industry is one of the oldest industries in the world and India is one of the global pioneers in this industry. The Indian textile industry occupies a significant place in many economies across the globe. The followings may be considered as a risk and concerns for the Indian textile industry:

- High competition and low profit margins
- Low share in global exports, despite being the largest producer, scale disadvantage vis-à-vis competing countries
- Low competitiveness in man-made fibres
- Labour advantage gradually diminishing
- Low demand in International market
- Increase in power cost
- Government policies such as unbalanced incentives

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Ginni Filaments Limited ("the Company") as at 31st March, 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. Those Standards and Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisitions, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of the compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, and adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March 2016, based on internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
